

Call for BOOK CHAPTERS

Title: ROLE OF SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH IN PROMOTING HEALTH RELATED OUTCOMES

The Social Determinants of Health (SDOH) encompass a range of socioeconomic and environmental factors that profoundly influence health outcomes and play a pivotal role in shaping health promotion interventions. It is crucial to remember that everyone is impacted by the SDOH. There is nothing a person "has" or "does not have" about them, and they are neither good nor bad. Whether for better or worse, SDOH shapes health. In response to this and a growing call for action on the SDOH, this book proposes to explore the important aspects and dimensions of the SDOH that must be addressed by different stakeholders in order to achieve health equity. This book will also offer viewpoints on broadening conceptual frameworks for health. Despite having this as a unifying subject and thread running through all of the articles, this book's contribution will represent a variety of viewpoints and take a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approach to the topics at hand. The book covers a wide range of topics, including health literacy, the built environment, health care access and quality, education, housing, neighbourhoods, digital access, and more. It also includes the multi-disciplinary nature of healthcare and management. This book is intended for students, researchers, academicians, and healthcare professionals, and it will provide them with new insights on SDOH.

Recommended topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Neighbourhood and Built Environment
- Education and Health
- Health care access and quality
- Health Literacy
- Housing and Health
- Social support and Socioeconomic Issues
- Access to Food and Health
- Income and Health
- Digital Access and Health
- Economic Stability and Health

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Researchers, Academicians and Health Care Professionals are invited to submit on or before September 30, 2023, an extended chapter abstract of 2 to 5 pages clearly explaining the mission and concerns of his or her proposed chapter. Notification to the authors about the status of their proposals will be sent by October 15, 2023. Full chapter is to be submitted by October 31, 2023 as per the guidelines for manuscript submission. All reviewed chapters will be notified by November 15, 2023. There are no submission or acceptance charges for manuscript submission for this book. "ROLE OF SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH IN PROMOTING HEALTH RELATED OUTCOMES" are accepted on double-blind peer review editorial process. All proposals should be submitted through the email address provided.

Submission Link: - Irfana.icmr2021@gmail.com

Final Chapter Submission 1st December 2023

NO PUBLICATION CHARGES

Editors

Dr Irfana Rashid
Senior Assistant Professor
University of Kashmir, South Campus

Aashiq Hussain Lone
Research Associate
University of Kashmir, South Campus

Dr Faseeh Amin
Project Technical Officer
University of Kashmir, South Campus

Shahzada Shahid Gulzar
Research Scholar
University of Kashmir, South Campus